Owner: Moke One, LLC

Welcome to moke.one, the official website of Moke One, LLC. These Terms of Service (“Terms,” “Terms of Use,” or “Agreement”) govern your access to and use of moke.one, including all pages, reflections, articles, books, workbooks, worksheets, PDF downloads, digital products, online courses, online programs, reflection tools, member areas, community features, comments, newsletters, and any other materials, products, or services offered through the website. By using this website, creating an account, purchasing a product, downloading materials, joining a course, subscribing to a membership, posting a comment, or accessing any Moke One content, you agree to these Terms. If you do not agree with these Terms, please do not use the website.

1. About Moke One

Moke One is a publishing, reflection, education, and creative-development platform offering books, reflections, articles, digital resources, workbooks, worksheets, courses, and future member-based materials related to healing, self-trust, body wisdom, purpose, boundaries, the next honest beat, and the broader Moke One library. Moke One materials may include symbolic, philosophical, literary, reflective, educational, spiritual, or personal-growth language. These materials are intended for reflection, education, creativity, and personal insight. They are not intended to replace professional medical, mental health, legal, financial, or therapeutic care.

2. Not Medical, Mental Health, Legal, or Professional Advice

The content on moke.one is for informational, educational, creative, symbolic, spiritual-reflective, and personal-growth purposes only. Moke One, LLC does not provide medical diagnosis, medical treatment, therapy, psychiatric care, crisis care, legal advice, financial advice, professional counseling, or emergency services through this website. Nothing on moke.one should be used as a substitute for advice from a qualified doctor, psychiatrist, therapist, counselor, attorney, financial advisor, or other licensed professional. If you are experiencing a medical emergency, mental health crisis, suicidal thoughts, severe distress, or danger to yourself or others, call emergency services immediately. In the United States, you can call or text 988 for crisis support.

3. Use of Reflections, Articles, and Educational Content

Moke One reflections, articles, quotes, prompts, and educational materials are designed to support thought, self-reflection, personal growth, creativity, and deeper engagement with the Moke One library. You agree that reflections, articles, quotes, prompts, and educational materials are not prescriptions, diagnoses, treatment plans, or guaranteed outcomes. Your use of any reflection, article, prompt, worksheet, workbook, course, or tool is voluntary. You are responsible for your own choices, actions, interpretations, and use of the materials.

4. Books, Workbooks, Worksheets, PDFs, and Digital Downloads

Moke One may offer books, workbooks, worksheets, printable PDFs, digital downloads, reflection guides, exercises, and other downloadable materials. When you purchase or download digital materials, you receive a limited, personal, non-exclusive, non-transferable license to use the materials for your own personal use unless otherwise stated. You may not copy, reproduce, redistribute, sell, resell, upload to public websites, share paid download links, remove copyright notices, claim Moke One materials as your own, use the materials to train artificial intelligence systems, or create derivative commercial products from Moke One materials without written permission from Moke One, LLC. Digital products are protected by copyright and other intellectual property rights.

5. Courses and Online Programs

Moke One may offer online courses, online programs, lessons, guided reflection paths, book companion courses, or educational programs. Courses may include written lessons, videos, audio, PDFs, worksheets, prompts, community areas, member posts, or other learning materials. Enrollment in a course does not guarantee any particular result, emotional outcome, financial outcome, healing outcome, spiritual outcome, medical outcome, or personal transformation. You are responsible for how you use the course material. Moke One courses are not therapy, medical care, crisis support, professional treatment, legal advice, or financial advice.

6. Future Memberships and Member Areas

Moke One may offer paid or free memberships in the future. Memberships may include access to member-only reflections, tools, workbooks, worksheets, courses, community areas, discussion spaces, monthly prompts, early content, private resources, or other special features. If memberships are offered, additional membership terms may apply, including pricing, billing, cancellation rules, access rules, content restrictions, community guidelines, and refund terms. Moke One may update these Terms before launching membership features or whenever membership features change. If a membership includes recurring billing, the billing terms, renewal terms, cancellation process, and any refund rules will be disclosed at the time of purchase.

7. Accounts, Login, and Security

Some parts of moke.one may require you to create an account, log in, or provide information to access purchased content, courses, downloads, member areas, community features, or private resources.

You agree to provide accurate information when creating an account or making a purchase. You are responsible for keeping your login information private and secure. You may not share your account access with others. Moke One may suspend, restrict, or terminate account access if an account is misused, shared, used for unauthorized purposes, used to harass others, used to violate these Terms, or used in a way that harms the website, community, business, users, or intellectual property of Moke One, LLC.

8. Payments, Purchases, and Billing

Moke One may sell digital downloads, courses, programs, memberships, workbooks, worksheets, PDFs, or other products through moke.one or through third-party platforms. By purchasing a product or service, you agree to pay the listed price and any applicable taxes or fees. Payment processing may be handled by third-party payment providers, website platforms, banks, card networks, or other checkout services. Moke One does not control every third-party payment system and is not responsible for payment processing errors caused by outside providers.

You are responsible for reviewing the product description, price, access rules, refund rules, and any recurring billing terms before purchasing.

9. Refund Policy

Unless otherwise stated on the product page, digital downloads, PDFs, worksheets, workbooks, courses, and other instantly accessible digital products are generally non-refundable once purchased or accessed, except where required by law. Moke One may choose to issue refunds at its discretion. If a product is defective, inaccessible, duplicated by mistake, or not delivered properly, contact Moke One at mokeonellc@outlook.com. Refund rules for future memberships, subscriptions, courses, or special offerings may be updated and displayed at the point of purchase.

10. Newsletter and Email Communications

If you sign up for the Moke One newsletter, you agree to receive emails related to reflections, book updates, website updates, resources, courses, workbooks, and Moke One announcements.

You may unsubscribe at any time using the unsubscribe link in the email or by following the instructions provided. Moke One will not intentionally spam users. Newsletter content is intended to support the Moke One library, reader updates, educational resources, and related offerings.

11. Comments, Community Features, and User Content

Moke One may offer comments, discussion areas, forums, member communities, reviews, testimonials, or other interactive features. If you post comments, replies, reflections, profile content, reviews, or any other user-generated content, you are responsible for what you post. You agree not to post content that is harassing, abusive, threatening, hateful, discriminatory, sexually exploitative, defamatory, intentionally false, spam, scam, promotional junk, violent, illegal, invasive of another person's privacy, infringing on another person's intellectual property, or otherwise harmful to the community. You also agree not to post medical, legal, or financial advice presented as professional guidance. Moke One may moderate, remove, hide, restrict, or delete user content at its discretion, including if content violates these Terms, disrupts the community, creates safety concerns, or does not fit the purpose of the website.

12. License You Grant for User Content

If you post content on moke.one, you retain ownership of your own original content. However, by posting content, you give Moke One a limited license to display, store, reproduce, moderate, and use that content as needed to operate the website, community features, courses, memberships, and related services. This does not give Moke One ownership of your personal story or private intellectual property. It simply allows the website to display and operate the content you choose to post. Do not post anything you do not want visible to others if the area is public or community-facing.

13. Intellectual Property Rights

All original Moke One content, including but not limited to text, reflections, quotes, articles, books, workbooks, worksheets, PDFs, graphics, logos, designs, course materials, website copy, brand language, frameworks, tools, UBE-related materials, Heartbeat-related materials, color-language materials, and other creative works, is owned by Moke One, LLC unless otherwise stated. You may not copy, modify, reproduce, distribute, resell, publish, scrape, download in bulk, train artificial intelligence systems on, or commercially exploit Moke One materials without prior written permission from Moke One, LLC.

14. Moke One / UBE Materials

Moke One and UBE-related materials are authored materials belonging to Moke One, LLC. Moke One does not claim ownership over Earth, Source, universal truth, love, spiritual reality, mathematics, science, medicine, technology itself, programming itself, or reality itself. Moke One claims ownership over its original authored materials, expressions, writings, designs, frameworks, brand materials, continuity structures, books, workbooks, courses, website materials, and related creative works.

15. Permitted Personal Use

You may use free public content on moke.one for personal reading, reflection, learning, and private practice. You may share public Moke One links on social media, through email, or with others, as long as you do not misrepresent the content, remove attribution, claim authorship, or republish paid/private materials. Short quotations may be shared with clear attribution to Moke One when reasonable and lawful. For commercial use, bulk use, publication, teaching, training, AI training, redistribution, or derivative products, written permission is required.

16. Prohibited Uses

You agree not to use moke.one to violate any law or regulation, infringe intellectual property rights, harass, abuse, or threaten others, attempt to hack or disrupt the website, scrape or copy content in bulk, use bots or automated tools without permission, share paid content publicly, share login credentials, bypass membership or payment restrictions, post spam or scams, upload malware or malicious code, use the website for unlawful commercial activity, or use Moke One materials to create competing commercial products without permission.

17. Reflection Tools and Interactive Tools

Moke One may offer reflection tools, prompts, embedded tools, worksheets, journaling aids, or future software-style tools. These tools are for reflection, education, personal organization, creativity, and personal-growth support only. They are not medical tools, diagnostic tools, therapy tools, emergency tools, legal tools, financial tools, or professional decision-making tools. Any tool output should be treated as reflective support, not as professional advice or guaranteed truth. If a tool allows you to type personal information, do not enter sensitive information unless you understand how the tool works and are comfortable doing so.

18. Third-Party Services and Links

moke.one may link to or integrate with third-party websites or services, including but not limited to Amazon, Apple Books, Google Play Books, YouTube, TikTok, Instagram, Facebook, X, Pinterest, payment processors, email providers, commenting tools, course tools, digital download tools, analytics tools, or other platforms. Moke One is not responsible for third-party websites, policies, content, payments, accounts, privacy practices, availability, security, technical issues, or business practices. Your use of third-party services is governed by those third parties' own terms and privacy policies.

19. Accessibility

Moke One aims to make moke.one accessible and usable for readers. If you experience difficulty accessing any part of the website, contact mokeonellc@outlook.com. Moke One may make reasonable efforts to improve accessibility over time.

20. No Guarantees

Moke One does not guarantee that the website will always be available, content will be error-free, digital products will meet every expectation, courses will produce a specific result, reflections will create a specific emotional outcome, workbooks will produce a specific transformation, membership will always include the same features, or the website will be uninterrupted, secure, or free from technical problems. Moke One may update, remove, revise, restructure, pause, or discontinue website content, courses, tools, memberships, products, pages, or services at any time.

21. Results Disclaimer

Moke One content may support reflection, healing language, self-trust, purpose, creativity, writing, spiritual-style learning, and personal growth. However, results vary by person. Moke One does not guarantee emotional healing, financial success, medical improvement, spiritual growth, mental health improvement, business success, book sales, website traffic, course sales, membership growth, relationship improvement, or any other specific outcome. Your results depend on many factors outside Moke One's control.

22. Limitation of Liability

To the fullest extent permitted by law, Moke One, LLC and its owners, members, employees, contractors, affiliates, service providers, and representatives will not be liable for any direct, indirect, incidental, consequential, special, punitive, exemplary, or other damages arising out of or related to your use of the website, materials, products, courses, memberships, tools, services, downloads, community features, or third-party platforms. This includes but is not limited to loss of data, lost profits, emotional distress, business interruption, loss of access, technical issues, reliance on content, or use of third-party services. Your use of moke.one is at your own risk.

23. Indemnification

You agree to indemnify and hold harmless Moke One, LLC and its owners, members, employees, contractors, affiliates, service providers, and representatives from any claims, damages, liabilities, losses, costs, or expenses arising from your use of the website, your violation of these Terms, your violation of another person's rights, your user-generated content, your misuse of Moke One materials, or your unlawful or harmful activity related to the website.

24. Termination or Restriction of Access

Moke One may suspend, restrict, or terminate your access to the website, account, community features, downloads, courses, memberships, tools, or services if you violate these Terms or misuse the website. Moke One may also remove content, disable comments, restrict community access, or close accounts if needed to protect the website, community, business, users, or intellectual property.

25. Changes to the Website and Services

Moke One may change, update, remove, pause, or discontinue any part of the website, including reflections, articles, products, workbooks, courses, memberships, tools, community areas, pricing, access rules, or services. Future features may include paid memberships, member-only reflections, member communities, course categories, workbook libraries, reflection tools, digital downloads, interactive tools, private resource areas, and other Moke One materials. These Terms may be updated when new features are added.

26. Changes to These Terms

Moke One may update these Terms at any time. The updated Terms will be posted on this page with a new effective date.

Your continued use of moke.one after updates means you accept the updated Terms. You should review these Terms periodically.

27. Governing Law

These Terms are governed by the laws of the State of Missouri, United States, unless another law is required to apply.

Any disputes related to these Terms or moke.one will be handled in the appropriate courts or legal forums as required by applicable law.
